Comments

“ Judy always waved and said hello with a smile to brighten our day. The Adams family across the street had been praying for her, and now continue to pray for her family and friends. Life is so short, it is sadly true that time is our cruel enemy, but God is so good to us. God put Judy in my path when I was having a bad day, and her smile and gentle hearted have a good day was all that was needed to change my day. I wrote something years ago, when I found out about an incurable autoimmune diagnosis.

Day to day, Andrew Adams c2013

Day to day living I'd rather not be
But by his blood Jesus saved me
Regarding not my sin he covered me
Standing now in robes of white
Forgiven heart shown grace by the savior's light
He welcomed me with open arms
A child of the morning star
Singing holy holy is he who sits on the throne of mercy day and night
Time is his might
Called my name and I rejoice
Welcome home, good and faithful one
So don't cry for me that day
When the savior calls my soul away
I'm with my king, my closest friend
I'm finally free from the chains of flesh that bound me then
Peace be with you
Listen to the voice of the morning dew
And you'll know this life was not in vain
Nor will I ever be shackled with pain
For I am free
Don't cry for me

I'm reminded of heaven and how we will see our loved ones there. While our hearts mourn, have peace in knowing she's waiting there for each of you. God bless.

“ I am so blessed to have gotten to know Judy. Such a wonderful mother-in-law to our son, and a great grandma to our shared grand kids. She raised a wonderful young lady for our son. Just you were a very nice, kind, christian woman and I know we will see each other again. May you peacefully be at rest. You will be missed by many.
