Words do not express the sorrow I feel in my heart. My memories of visiting the farm, our family hog roasts and Ann Marie are very vivid ones that I will cherish forever. May God bless and keep you and your family.

“ There are absolutely no words for the trendous sadness being felt right now not only by myself but, with so many. Annie was my BSU girlie and we shared thousands of tears, laughter, and memories together. I WILL NEVER FORGET OUR FRIENDSHIP! To Art, Bev, Terri, Densie, Joe, Andy, and all your kiddos, please know each and everyone of you are in my thoughts and prayers. I am thinking about you and hugging you from afar.
To Patrick, thank you for making her smile and being her companion for the past 15 years.
To my sweet Annie.... I love you and will forever miss you! Hug your mommy tightly! Say good-bye to all the pain and to that wheelchair! Have more "strawberries" in Heaven my dear friend!
Lots of love and hugs to all of you!

“ I was so saddened to see Anne's obituary in the newspaper this morning. I use to visit Anne quite often a few years back and I loved spending time with her. She was so lovely and so brave and strong. I admired her so much. She had a lot to teach others. I lost touch with her because I was taking care of my disabled elderly dad and just didn't have time to visit with anyone. I so regret that now that Anne is gone. She is one person I was determined to get in touch with again now that my dad is gone. I will always love and remember her. My sincere condolences to her family.

“ I had the honor to assist Ann with her daily needs as a home aide. We became such good friends, that I would go to her house just for whatever on my days off. She was such a strong spirit, and I loved her jokes. We could talk for hours, and we did.. I loved her.. we did not see each other for a while as my career took a turn .. I am saddened to just find out today that my funny, joyful, silly, crazy, kind, unselfish, beautiful friend has passed. It has left me hurt and in disbelief. God Bless you my My Angel... I will love you forever..... Deborah Cookerly Lyon
