“ One of my favorite memories was the day I got married: When the ceremony was over it had started to rain I was starting to fret because I was going to get wet. Cinnie was by my side and heard me, she gave me a hug and said, Don't be upset my beautiful beanpole, it is gods angels crying because they are so happy. We were about 30 minutes from the hospital when I got the call from my sister, that she had passed, I was devastated and crying, when I opened my eyes it was raining. I knew then that the angels were crying not because they felt our pain but they were so happy to have gained such a beautiful soul in heaven. We will always love you and miss you, Cinnie. You will always be forever in my heart!
