“ Although I did not know Dean, I want to take a moment to extend my sympathy. We all face the loss of a loved one and the pain that comes along with that is overwhelming. I have found comfort from knowing that God cares about how much we hurt. Psalm 56:8 says He collects all our tears and preserves them in his bottle and records everyone in his book. He promises to soon wipe away all the tears from our eyes and death will be no more. We can look forward to a time when no one will ever die again. May that bring you comfort and hope as it has for me.

“ You would think that growing up in sparsely populated Johnson Township would have presented problems for a growing young boy like myself. Town was too far to walk and siblings could get on your nerves in a hurry, but I was fortunate enough to have had several places to go for relief. Dean and Shirleys' was one of them. Having Keith as one of my best friends and a place like the Andersons was invaluable in molding me as a person. Dean was a big part of that. Even in the depth of difficult harvests, when 20 hour days were common place, Dean had a smile on his face and made me feel at home. His guidance and watchful eye will be treasured forever. He will be missed.
