“ Even though I hadn't known John too long, we were good friends and enjoyed having our ice cream treats in the afternoon at Miller's. It was my privilege for Mary and I to sit with him at the dining table. He was a gentleman and a fine person. I'm sorry to have lost him as a friend. My sincere condolences to all his family and loved ones.

“ The Wakarusa United Methodist Church family extends its deep sympathy to John’s family. John and Pat were loving members of our congregation. When they walked into church or worshiped together they were most often seen holding hands which warmed the hearts of many. They always had time to chat with and show concern for others. After Pat’s passing, John continued to display a caring heart to those around him. Although he was unable to attend church, he stayed connected. It was fun seeing him enjoy brightening the days of others at Miller’s Senior Living. He will be greatly missed. May God’s blessings and cherished memories be with his family and friends.
