“ What can I say, my favorite Uncle! When I was small, he didn't like to go to the fireworks display on the 4th of July and neither did I. The sound scarred me so we would sit in his back yard by the pool, which was a few blocks away and watch. I never knew if he would have rather been in the house away from the noise and just sat out there because I wanted to or what but I never asked. Love you to pieces, Uncle John!
