“ Marvin was such a good friend. We grew up together in Pine Village and had a blast doing so. Neither of our families were rich and we didn't have the latest things that the 1980's provided, but we had good friends and summer days to just goof around. Lots of good memories of you, my brother. I hope you find peace now. You left this world better then you found it for a lot of us. You will be missed.
