“ When Pam's mother, Jean, was dying, I often visited her in her home. Pam would be there, sitting at her mom's bedside. It was there that Pam and I became acquainted. I was impressed with her love and loyalty as a daughter. In the years that followed, she and I became dear friends, and I was blessed to develop friendships with Teri and Phil as well. My prayers are with Pam's family. I will miss her as I cherish the good chats we had together.
