“ Russell worked on our chicken farm just down the road from his home. My sister and I were very young at that time but Russell would always share his sweet smile when we saw him and then go about the job at hand. In more recent years I got to see and visit with him a bit at Pilgrim Manor when there to play the piano for the Evangelical Covenant Church ladies as they would have a devotional time with the residents. Prayers for his remaining family. Peace to his memory.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Mabel, your brother loved you so very much. He would share many memories of your childhood growing up on the farm. He loved feeding the chickens and I am sure he is loving all of the little chickens in heaven. I am so thankful for all the time that I was blessed to spend with him. I will always remember the big smile he had for me when I came in with ice cream. His favorite was always chocolate until the day I brought in a pumpkin pie blizzard. It was the new favorite and won hands down. His love for life, flowers, growing tomatoes, and farming will continue to bring warmth to my heart. In our hearts he will remain.
