

Terri Stuart

June 12, 1958 - May 4, 2025

Terrie Stuart of Kingsbury, Indiana, passed away peacefully at her home on Sunday, May 4, 2025 — a day fittingly known as Star Wars Day. She was 66 years old.

Born on June 12, 1958, in Hammond, Indiana, Terrie was the daughter of the late Jessie S. and Grace Irene (Dilts) Harrell. She spent the last eight years of her life in Kingsbury, having previously lived in Kingsford Heights.

On April 21, 1991, she married Michael A. Stuart in Knox, Indiana. He survives, along with their three children: Michael P. Stuart, Leslie E. Stuart, and Ian M. Stuart.

Terrie was a proud and passionate sci-fi enthusiast, with an enduring love for Star Wars and Star Trek. She was also a devoted reader, especially fond of Dean Koontz's Odd Thomas series, as well as the works of Stephen King and many other authors. Her love for storytelling extended to music, which she enjoyed in all its forms. Terrie had a special fondness for frogs.

She is also survived by her siblings: Sandy Adams, Peggy Huddleston, Brenda Harrell, and Dennis Harrell. She was preceded in death by her parents, two sisters — Sharon Davis and Bonnie Bailey — and one brother, Jessie W. Harrell.

In accordance with Terrie's wishes, she was cremated, and the family will not be holding visitation or services at this time.

Terrie's family and friends will remember her for her vibrant spirit, her love of stories — both told and lived — and her enduring devotion to those she loved. May the Force be with her, always.

Tribute Wall

“ Aunt Terrie was a beautiful woman inside and out! Some of my most cherished childhood memories are having her as a softball coach alongside Carl, camp outs under the stars, and being told to “be quiet! Or I’ll rip your lips off!” Aunt Terrie will be missed! Sending my thoughts, prayers, and love to the whole family!

Cyndi Goetz Clark - May 07, 2025 at 09:52 PM