“ My Uncle Wes was a gentle soul who loved God & his family. His brother, John, nurtured him since he was only 3 when his beloved mother, Bertha died. We used to visit him in Walkerton, Indiana to go mushroom hunting I remember he always had a big smile on his face. He worked for the Studebaker factory in Indiana. We loved visiting him, Aunt Louise & my cousins. He & his son Joe would visit us in Chicago on his way to go to a White Sox game. I loved being around him & his family. He & his brothers, John & Mike all had Parkinsons disease. There was to be a study involving siblings with Parkinsons but both Mike & John passed before it began. Wes was in denial for a long time regarding his disease because he saw the toll it was taking on his brothers. I loved him a lot! R.I.P. Uncle Wes:(

“ I remember visiting Uncle Wes and Aunt Louise when I was a child with my grandparents, John and Sophie Setnor. I remember with great fondness the time Uncle Wes took me and my brother Scott for a spin on his tractor. I loved visiting! I always felt like a misplaced farm girl because I never wanted to go back to the city after those visits. Please accept my deep condolences at your great loss. Rest in peace and God's grace, Uncle Wes.

“ Dear Uncle Wesley, You and Aunt Louise were always so kind to me. One thing that I will always remember is how you tried to teach me how to drive, but the first and last lesson did not go too well. As it turned out, I realized that I did not belong behind the wheel of a car, I never learn. (One less menace on the highways.) The world would be a beautiful place if everyone had your good heart and sweet nature. I love you Uncle Wesley, I really do. Barb

“ To all the Setnors; Wesley was close friends with all the Rowe family of Rensselaer; I lived on Redwood Road when Wes and Louise and sons did and babysat for them. A long time ago now. No better man in the world than Wes. A friend to all. My heartfelt sympathy to you all.
